

La Cornue for you.

Written by GDC
Wednesday, 13 July 2011 03:10 -

Every now and then Georgetown Development comes across a piece of equipment for the home that makes us giddy with the thought of being able to include it in a luxury custom home so when we saw this custom range, we knew we had to share it with you.

The Château Series range from La Cornue is like no other stove you have ever seen in the DC Metro area. The pieces are made 100% by hand in the company's factory across the pond in France and customers can choose any combination of features they desire resulting in a custom range that is truly unique to each home with a total of almost 8,000 configurations. The range is available in 28 colors and is a total splurge for any kitchen, but if you are looking for custom, this is the way to go.

At Georgetown Development, we have been creating luxury custom homes for over twelve years and there's nothing we love more than a kitchen with all the bells and whistles and with this range in your kitchen, you will no doubt be firing on all cylinders. We have even used this line in a pool cabana kitchen in Bethesda.

To view some of our latest award winning custom homes, please visit us at www.georgetowndevcorp.com

Happy Building!